Tamim Ansary

Afghan American Author and Lecturer

Tamim directs the San Francisco Writer's Workshop, teaches through the Osher Institute, edits for other authors, and writes fiction and nonfiction about Afghanistan, Islam-and-the-West, democracy, education, history, current events, social issues, his cat, anything that comes to mind! See his web page at <http://www.mirtamimansary.com>

Recently published works:

- West of Kabul, East of New York, a memoir that depicts how it was to grow up, straddling the two vastly disparate cultures—Afghanistan and America.
- Destiny Disrupted: A History of the World Through Islamic Eyes, which won the Northern California Book Award for Best General Nonfiction of 2009, and has been or is being translated into nine languages including Russian, Dutch, Indonesian, Korean, and Italian.
- The Widow's Husband, a historical novel set in Afghanistan in 1841.
