

April 2007 Meeting Photos of the event

BETH LISICK has been an integral and high profile member of San Francisco's arts community for the past ten years. A weekly columnist for the SF Gate (San Francisco Chronicle's website), a contributor to public radio's This American Life, a spoken word performer, a sketch comedian, a musician, an independent film actor, and the curator of a successful storytelling series.

Ms. Lisick will share tips on how to write comedic material. She is the author Everybody into the Pool, a memoir featuring a collection of humorous and ridiculous tales deemed "whip-smart" by critics and hailed in several roundup lists for 2005, including reaching the New York Times extended bestseller list and the Entertainment Weekly list of Top 10 nonfiction books for that year.

Please join us at the Hungry Hunter Restaurant, 3201 Mt. Diablo Blvd, Lafayette (corner of Pleasant Hill Road) on April 14th at 11:30 a.m. Come network with local writers and hear Beth Lesick' best advice on writing for laughs.

Reservations are due no later than noon Wednesday, April 11. Make certain to include your menu choice (see below) with your reservation. To make reservations, contact Betty Iverson by e-mail at bjiverson@comcast.net or by phone at \(925\) 376-3631. Expect confirmation only if you e-mail for reservations.

$20 CWC members, $25 non-members

Return to Previous Meeting index

Return to main page