

January 2004 meeting of the Mt. Diablo Branch of CWC

Photos by Hunter Anderson and Al Villaire

The meeting took place at our new Hungry Hunter location - Lafayette! The Concord HH branch closed without warning (us) last Christmas.

Branch President Laura Fischer made several announcements and called for guests
to introduce themselves.

After we met the guests, Liz Pentacoff, director of California Authors Night, delivered an interactive description of the event. It included a 'Top Ten Reasons' to attend (ala David Letterman), audience participation and much laughter.

The bit culminated with Pat Edwards doing a short sketch of Anaïs Nin, her role for Authors Night.

We also managed to sell a few tickets to the event!

Our guest speaker, Gonzalo Ferreyra (Ten Speed Press) told us about life with the big chains, B&N, Borders, as well as Amazon.com and Costco. He also delivered some surprising info about that "Bargain Books" table near the front of the store.
