

INSIGHTS FROM OUR OWN - MT. DIABLO BRANCH AUTHORS PANEL

Invest just a few hours on December 13 and get three-plus for the price of one. Three Mt. Diablo Branch authors will share their wisdom and insights; the panel format promises a lively exchange!

Katrina Prado is a freelance writer for Woman's World magazine and the author of a mystery series as well as many literary short stories published in national magazines. Her latest novel, Boxes of Years, is now available at bookstores, as well as from Amazon.com.

Betty Fielding has spent 25 years lecturing on the psychology of aging to colleges, medical centers and community groups. Responding to requests, she has developed programs focusing on enhancing the quality of life through improving memory. She has published The Memory Manual (now in a 2nd printing) which captures the essentials of her teaching.

Pearl Atkins Schwartz has written a novel, two children's books and a collection of short stories (her second collection is in progress). One of her stories took 2nd prize in a Writer's Digest competition. She will talk about extending your writing into "what you don't know," by careful research. Her proof points are stories set in Mexico and Egypt – she has never been to either place.
